Team Evaluation

Name _____
Date _____

How many members were on your legal team? _____
Multiply the number of members x 10: _____. Write that number in the bottom right-hand corner of the box below where it says TOTAL. The numbers that you assign each member of your team as a grade should add up to the TOTAL.

In a perfect world, all members of your legal team would have participated equally and contributed equally to the success of your team’s efforts to prepare for the trial and in the presentation of your client’s case. If your team did share the work equally, give each member 10 points. If, however, some members did the yeoman’s share while others did little, take some points away from the hitchhikers and add the points you took away to someone who actually earned them. Be sure to justify your grading by saying exactly what each participant (or non-participant as the case may be) did to help your group accomplish its objectives.

Name	Contribution	Grade*
	TOTAL

Remember! Anytime you subtract points from a participant, you must give those points to someone else. The total of all grades that you award MUST add up to the number of group members x 10.
