The Columbus Dream

By Pauline Evans

Dare to be an explorer
Dare to be unique
When others joke about your dream
You never think defeat

You set out on a daring trip
No one thought you'd succeed
But still you pressed on, your hope alive
And finally, you did arrive

New lands to claim for your country
A fight you sure ignite
They all wanted a piece of the pie
Though it was you who reached for the sky

Your dream became a reality
The light of hope was never dimmed
You pressed toward your distant goal
Success became yours because you were bold
